August 2019

One was saved this month!

After sharing the gospel with a lady at the hospital, I asked her if she had any questions. She asked me, "How can I have my sins forgiven once and for all!" I shared with her how Jesus took all of our sin upon Himself at the cross and that whosoever comes to Him in repentance and faith will be saved eternally! While I was sharing, she said that she was ready to pray to be saved that moment! Pray that we might be able to start a Bible study with her after she gets out of the hospital.

Ruth has finished her High School studies and graduated!

We are super proud of Ruth! She put in a lot of work, especially this last year. During this past month we gave her several rounds of tests, which she completed very well. After her graduation we signed her up for a four day Intensive Horse Therapy Course that we found here in Cordoba. The course took place at the end of August and she learned some valuable lessons on how to help children with special needs through horse therapy. She has had some experience in the US volunteering with Horse Therapy but has not had opportunity until now to do more with it. Her plans are to return to the US and continue pursuing further education working with horse therapy and special needs children.

Which brings me to one of the sad moments this month, purchasing a one way ticket back to the US for Ruth. At the end of this year she plans to return to the US with Stacie's parents and attend Hill College. We have a hard time imagining life here in Argentina without her but at 19 she is ready to spread her wings and pursue the dreams and plans God has for her life.

Pray for Laura who was saved during the preaching at the Hospital!

Ruth had the opportunity to complete a Horse Therapy course!

Jonathan had the opportunity to go to a weekend youth camp with some of his friends!

Thoughts from Stacie:

"Ama de Casa" roughly translates as "Love of the Home" and is a respected title here for what we would call a homemaker in the U.S. This month I've enjoyed getting to back away some from formal language school and move more toward being more active in the daily routine of the home and culture here. For example this month we began potty training Joanna. We had to learn a whole new vocabulary set for this new activity. Everywhere Joanna goes we have the pelela (potty chair) in tow. I have found potty training conversations a little awkward with other moms. I guess I have a little ways to go yet towards being comfortable with some vocabulary words.

Another behind the scenes moment this month was going shopping with Elijah and Elisabeth for new clothes. These kids didn't stop growing since we left the United States a little over a year ago and much of their clothing were getting to small on them. I went clothes shopping with Hannah and Jonathan in July so August was Elijah and Elisabeth's turn. We're still working on clothing vocabulary but the word "Jeans" is still the same. However sadly skinny jeans are about the only style we can find here. The kids miss bootcut jeans. And the word for the jeans with tears in the legs is roto. So if you don't want to buy torn jeans tell them "sin roto" which translates "without broken" and well they may or may not have them. Shopping for shoes is an adventure too as they use European sizing here.

Scott's Birthday party
A great time to discuss the word of God!

Thank you for your prayers and support!
